

Guidelines for Contribution of Tax Materials

Thank you for your interest in sharing your expertise to promote tax excellence and enhance the tax profession. The contributed content, upon approval, would be featured in the Singapore Chartered Tax Professionals' (SCTP) website, as well as disseminated in our weekly communique to accredited tax professionals. Below are the terms and conditions to note before submitting any technical materials.

Please do not hesitate to contact SCTP at enquiry@sctp.org.sg if you have any queries.

To Contribute Technical Content

To contribute a tax article, blog, commentary, newsletter, etc, please click here.

Terms and Conditions

- This is a members-only channel to share expertise, exchange insights and perspectives.
- The contribution should be original and of sufficient literary or educational merit appropriate for dissemination to primarily the tax community.
- Any contribution deemed to be promotional in nature will not be considered.
 - In the event that the article includes mention of the firm's approach and how the firm can provide assistance on the issue, it must not exceed more than 25% of the content.
- All statements made in the contribution must be true and accurate to the author's knowledge and belief. In the event where technical inaccuracy is established, the article will be removed and a notification included in SCTP's communications platforms informing readers of its removal.
- SCTP retains the right to make the final decision on all aspects of content in any of its platforms.
- SCTP retains the right to amend the above terms and conditions without any prior notice.